

Notice inviting Papers for Anthology

Department of Philosophy, B.U.

14.01.2019

In continuation of earlier notice on the web regarding publication of an edited volume/anthology (peer-reviewed, and with ISBN) incorporating the articles presented in the seminar EPTSTEMOLOGY, LOGIC AND AXIOLOGY held in March'18, we like to inform our teachers, scholars and students in Philosophy, including those who presented papers in the said seminar but did not send their full papers, that some more research papers on the same topic would be accommodated in it. So we invite some more articles (in full-length with Abstracts) within 10 pages (1.5 spaced, Font : New Times Roman, referencing in MLA format) both in soft copy and hard copy on or before 31.01.2019. The final decision on the publication of papers received and to be received will be taken by the Editorial Board in consultation with the members of Advisory Committee. All correspondence in this regard may be made through the email below:
