Department of Bengali
The University of Burdwan

GOLAPBAG BURDWAN, 713104
West Bengal, India

A Brief History of the Department

The Department of Bengali, The University of Burdwan was established in 1960. This is the first Literature Department in India recognized as Department of Special Assistance (DSA) by the UGC in 1983. During these phases, the department conducted in-depth study and research in the thrust area and published twelve books written by the faculties. As a part of the DSA programme the manuscript section was established as a separate wing in 1986 for collection and preservation of manuscripts found in the region in which the University is located. The section is enriched with 400 manuscripts of Bengali and Sanskrit, the oldest one dating back 1654. After Completing three phases (1983-2003) of DSA, the department was recognized as the Centre of Advanced Study (CAS) in 2004 by the UGC as the first Literature department in India. The department has successfully completed three phases of CAS in 2016. During these three phases, the department has successfully completed seven research projects and published some valuable books written by the faculties. Now the Department has running smoothly with all its infrastructure alongwith reach faculties, resourcefull researcher and students.
